

Calling Aspiring Authors!

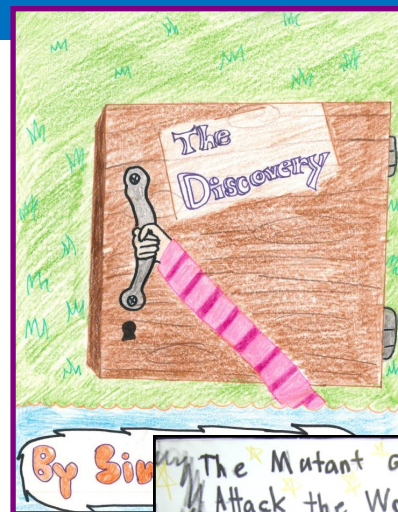

Do you love to tell stories?

Do you desire the freedom to create?

Do you have a passion for books?

Do you want professional results?

Then this adventure is for you!

Aspiring Authors

Using a unique two brain approach in a positive and friendly environment, students are inspired to write and "publish" their own books.

This is a fun and challenging eight week adventure where each student will be an author, editor, and artist "hired" by the publishing company to create their masterpieces. As a company, we will assemble and bind the books creating professional results.* Students will learn how to use the elements of story building to captivate their readers and enhance their illustrations to make their words come alive. Their books will be a treasure to cherish.

In a culminating activity, we will have an evening with parents and friends to "Celebrate the Authors".

*Time will be given in class to write and illustrate, however professional results will require additional homework as each student continues to work to complete a rough draft, edit for a final draft and illustrate.

Actual author book covers.

How will you create yours?

"It is really fun to see your ideas in a book! I like how your ideas change from beginning to end, and how pictures make the book seem so much better. I loved learning about how a book gets made, all the steps from idea to pictures, to publishing and editing. It is fun helping other people edit their ideas."
